As you look through the 1966 Blue Quill, you will find new layout, new sectional arrangement, new design and in general, an effort to achieve excellence at the expense of mediocrity. This newness reflects the changing attitude of our school.

This year Corrigan High School has moved forward, placing greater emphasis on scholastic achievements, yet not neglecting extracurricular activities. This is caused by something intangible - a spirit shared by students and faculty alike. It is what we have called the NEW ERA.

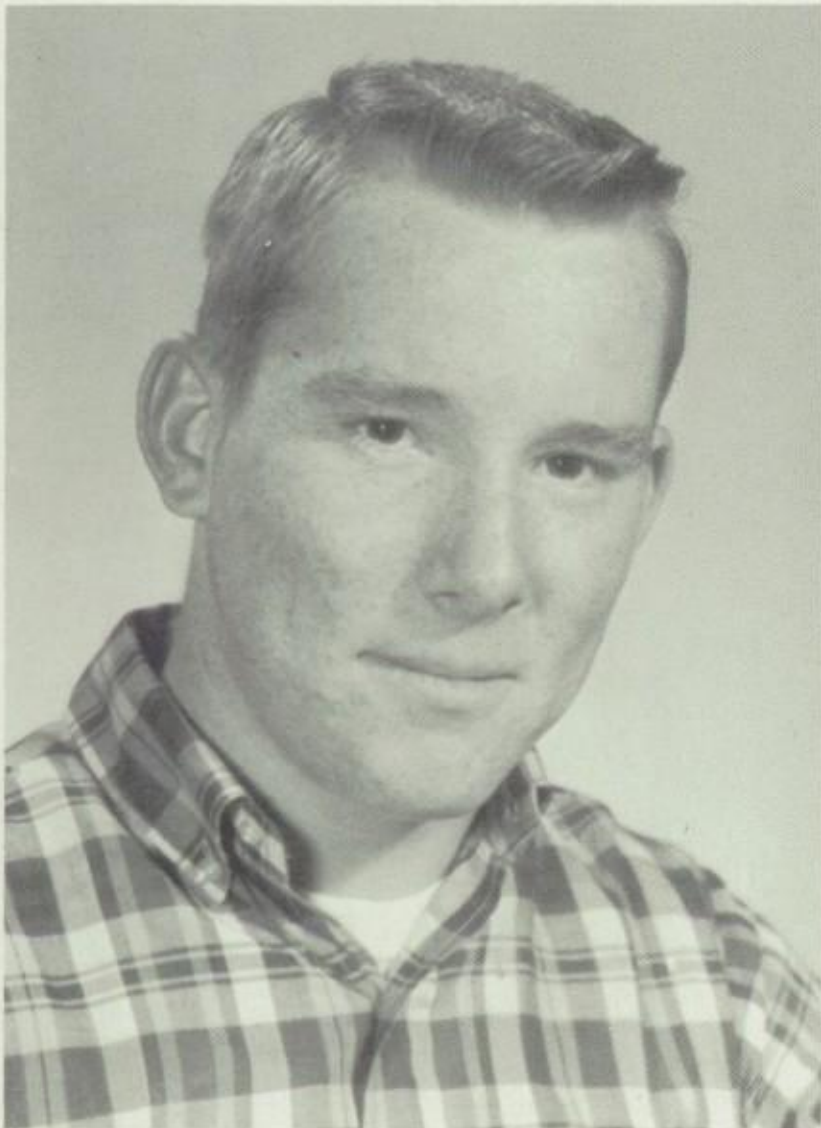

Regardless of the size or quality of this yearbook, it could not have been produced without the assistance and cooperation of many wonderful people. I feel it is my place to thank those who have provided us with the opportunity and the means to create this book. Foremost among these people is Mrs. Gwen Reily, our advisor. She first allowed us to be different, then guided, helped, and counseled us as we worked to compile this year's Blue Quill. We also wish to thank Mr. Sims and other faculty members for their cooperation; Mr. Lee B. Zeagler for the football action shots; Mr. Jennings, our photographer; and the businessmen whose advertisements paid the production costs.

EDITOR'S MESSAGE

DEDICATION

BILLY RAINES

Whether at Naishapur or Babylon,
The Leaves of Life keep falling one by one.

--The Rubaiyat

The leaves do fall. They have fallen from among us. This year our school has been saddened by the loss of Billy Elbert Raines, who was fatally wounded in a hunting accident on December 5, 1965. Hundreds of lines could be written, but no words, however well chosen or used, can express the shocked disbelief or the realization of loss everyone felt at the passing of Billy.

Billy was a good student who took an interest in his school. He participated in football, the FFA, and was on the staff of the Bulldog Growl.

We will miss Billy. We will miss his companionship, his participation in sports, his participation in the FFA and in schoolwork. But most of all, we will miss him as a person. We know his memory will remain with us, a constant reminder of what he meant to each who knew him.

To Billy Elbert Raines the 1966 Blue Quill is respectfully dedicated.

SUPERINTENDENT J. R. Cockrell

For the past decade, Mr. Cockrell has devoted himself to fulfilling a great responsibility--that of being Superintendent of our school district. His leadership in school and community affairs has made possible the advances in the providing of a better educational opportunity for the students of Corrigan. To him, more than any other individual, we are indebted for this year's progress, which we have called the New Era.

SCHOOL

ADMINISTRATION

PRINCIPAL James H. Sims

Much of the success or accomplishment of day to day school activities is due to the ability of the school's principal. This office requires a man delicately balanced between being a teacher, administrator, and counselor. Our high school is fortunate in having such a principal as Mr. Sims. As the pictures illustrate, Mr. Sims each day finds time to be principal of a high school, geometry teacher, and yet maintain an active interest in athletic activities.

W. B. Andrews, Fred Smith, Secretary; J. R. Cockrell, Superintendent; D. C. Stovall, President; Kenneth Knox, J. P. Dow, Vice-President; and M. C. Hughes.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Through sponsoring various school elections and through class representation, the Student Council, a student government organization, is helping mold better leaders for C.H.S. and for tomorrow. Student Council Sponsor is Mr. Edward Ray; Co-Sponsor, Mrs. Jean Reily.

The Student Council holds the election for Miss Merry Christmas in the library. Standard voting procedures are used so that students can obtain practical experience in ballot-casting.

Student Council Officers, Leon Murdoch, President; Allen Pope, Secretary; Sheila Johnson, Treasurer; and Robert Ward, Vice-President, look at the Code of Dress, drawn up and suggested to the student body by the Council this year.

CHEERLEADERS INSPIRE BULLDOGS

Cheerleaders displayed their spirit in games, pep rallies, and decorating goal posts. The Football Banquet, held by the Cheerleaders in March, brought to a close the year's activities.

This year the Pep Squad has exemplified the new era by fostering student enthusiasm through leading new and different yells. Added attractions to the Squad this year were the hand megaphones, shakers, and beanies.

The Corrigan High School Bulldog Band, under the direction of Mr. Byron E. Shelton, is known by everyone as "the pride of Corrigan High School." The band entertained during halftime ceremonies at every football game, presented a concert, marched in several parades, and played at various school programs.

The band presented its annual spring concert May 14. Not only was great musical talent displayed, but the band also made a nice profit which will be utilized in purchasing needed materials for the group.

FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA

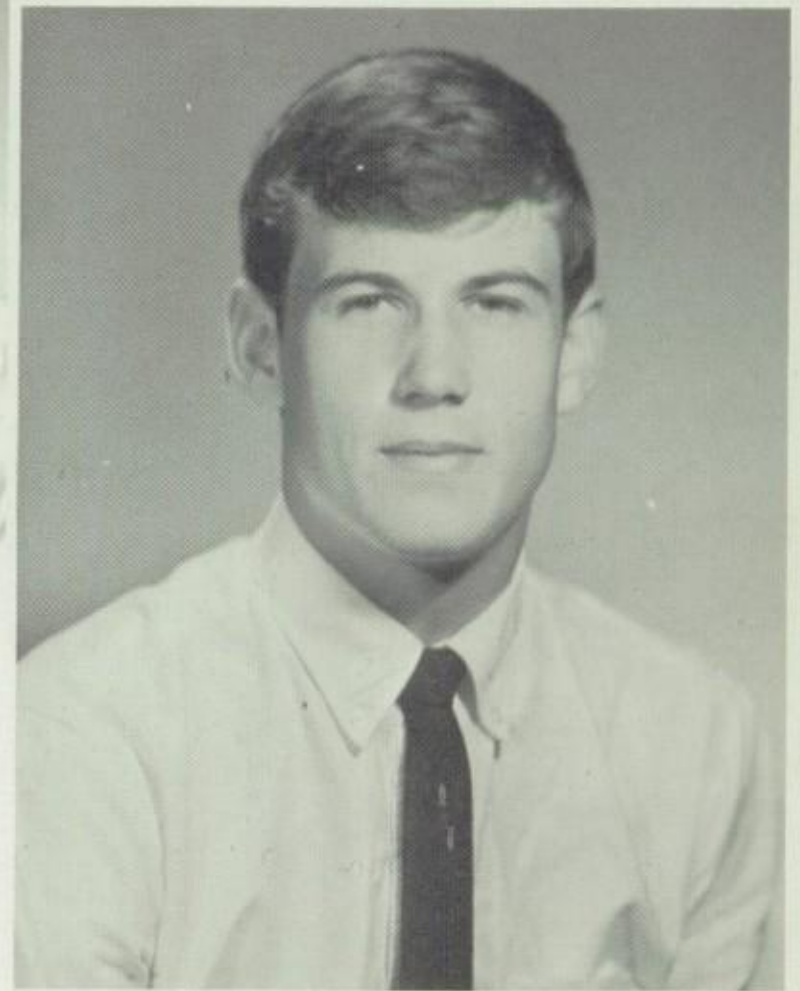

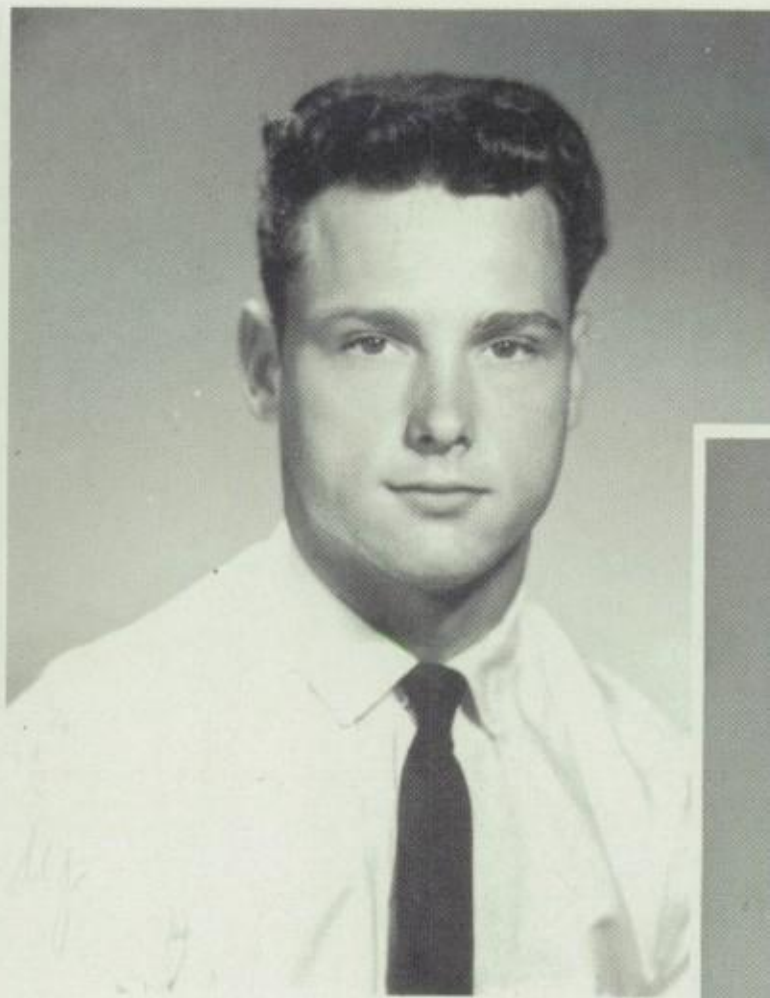

The motto of the FHA, "Toward New Horizons", inspired the members to a busy and productive year with such activities as sponsoring a talent show, beginning the chapter scrapbook, and holding programs on the different phases of FHA life. In May the chapter held its annual Mother-Daughter Banquet for which it raised funds by selling candy.

The officers, shown with Mrs. Eidson, chapter advisor and sponsor, were chosen at the beginning of the school year by popular vote of the FHA members. The officers chosen were from left to right: Renee Rake - Reporter; Bonnie Fuller --Parliamentarian; Gay Nell Loving--Song Leader; Lois Riley--Vice-President; Mrs. J. C. Eidson--Chapter Sponsor; Sheila Johnson--President; Carol Hardin--Historian; Shirley Splettstosser--Treasurer; and Linda Pope--Secretary.

FHA SWEETHEARTS

Randy Gesford and Allen Ray Pope were chosen by popular vote of the FHA members as Chapter Sweethearts for the 1965-66 school year.

The Freshman girls modeled their finished outfits at the final PTA meeting of the year, where parents and teachers alike admired the girls' skill and fashion-consciousness.

Activity was the theme of the homemaking classes for the Freshman girls as they were introduced to cooking, grooming, sewing and child care. One of their many projects was the completion of a solid-colored cotton shift.

The third year homemaking students' main project was the making of a solid-colored wool dress. Jeanie Fox and Laura Alsbrooks modeled their fashions at the style show.

Black and white accessories highlighted the plaid dresses sewn by the Sophomore girls who also enjoyed another of their major projects --that of supervising the children at the nursery school.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

These assistants aid Mrs. Brown as student librarians. They keep the library in order, as well as performing regular librarian duties.

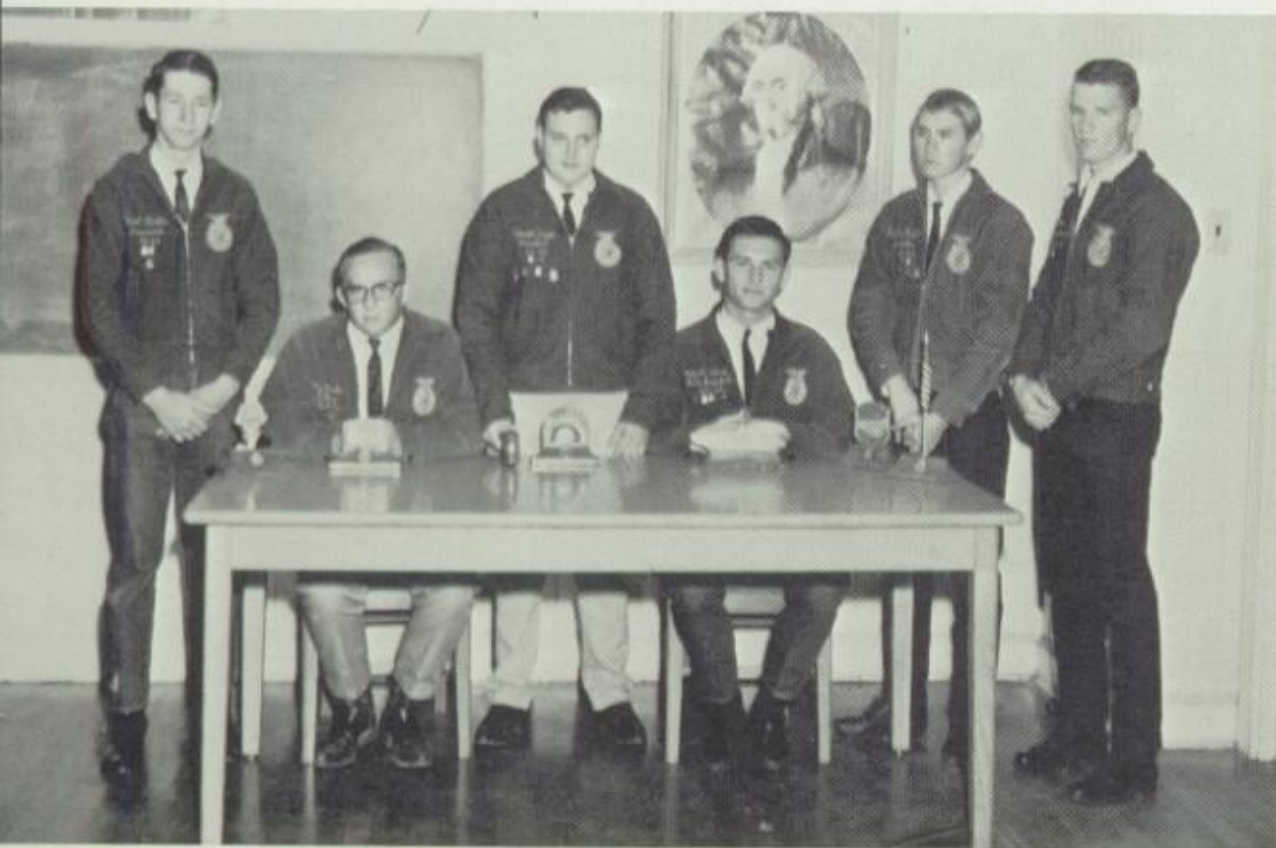

The office assistants have proved to be invaluable assets to Mr. Sims, our principal. The assistants perform regular office duties, such as keeping absentee records, typing, and running errands.

FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA

In the Vocational Agriculture classes under the direction of Mr. Eidson, the students are taught animal husbandry, shop techniques, and parliamentary procedure. The study of crop procedures is also taught, and the raising of an individual's choice of animal is stressed.

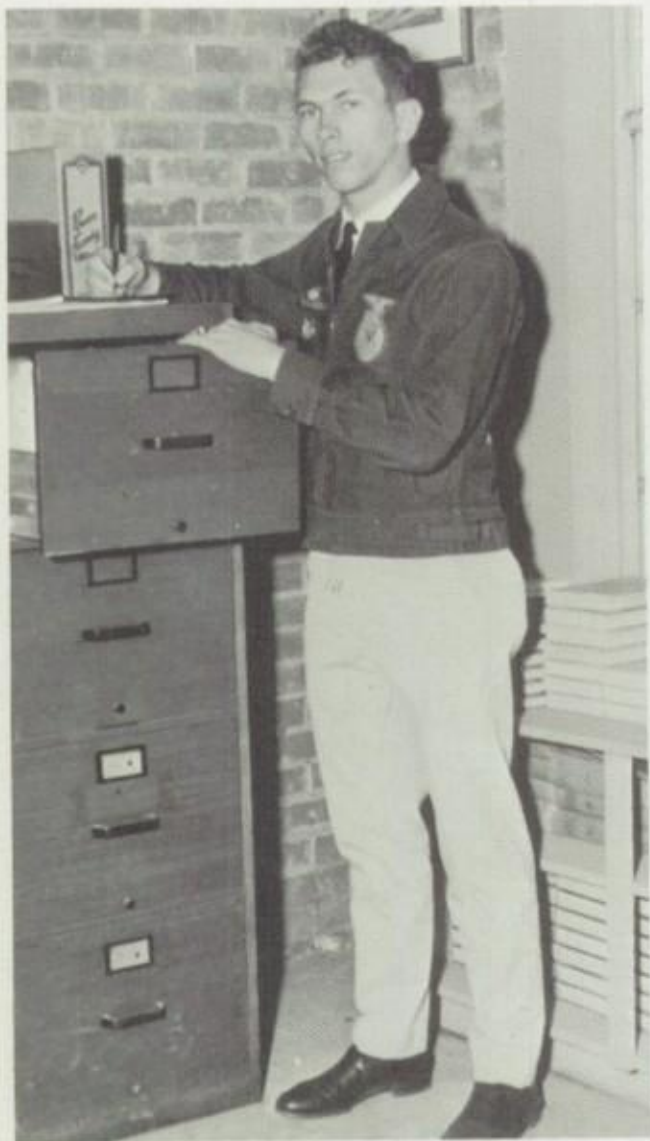

Chapter officers of 1965-66 are: Harold Seago, President; Michael Moulder, Vice-President; Kenneth Thomas, Secretary; Noel Carter, Treasurer; Tommy Eagleburger, Reporter; George Wallace, Sentinel. These boys have shown their qualities of leadership by leading the Chapter to another year of success.

"Touchdown!" The Bulldog team entered their successful season by scoring against the Warren Warriors early in the second quarter. After a long defensive battle, the Bulldogs emerged victorious over Warren 8-0.

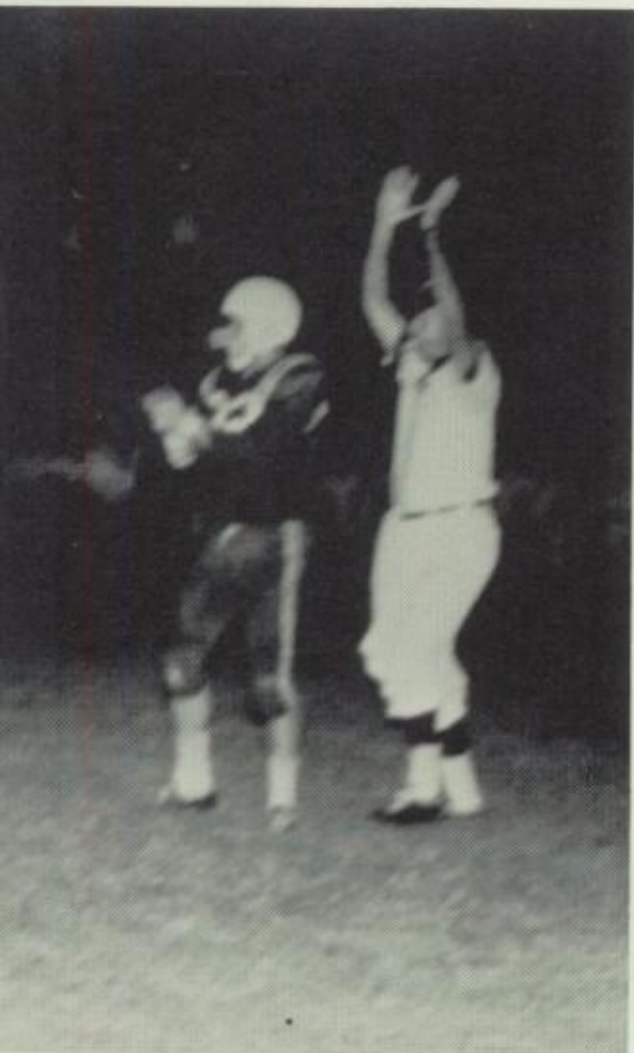

One of the most exciting football seasons since 1957 was experienced this year as the fighting Bulldog team chewed up 5 of its 10 opponents. With the school spirit high and the determination of 29 hard-hitting boys, the Bulldogs opened the campaign with a 3-0 record. As the exceptional season came to an end, the team had displayed its ability, not only as great players, but good sportsmen as well.

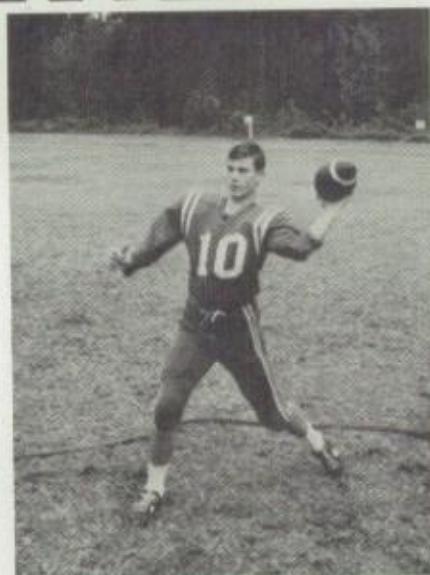

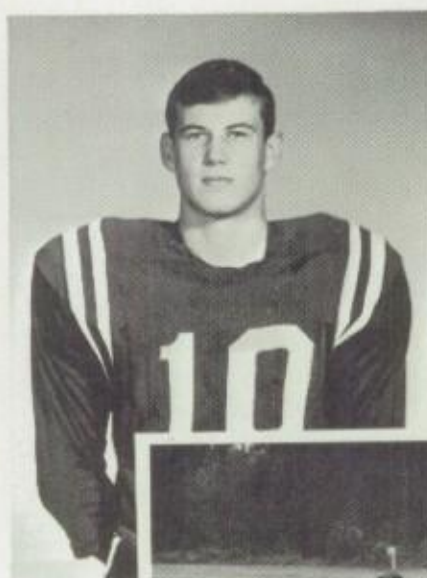

Bulldogs take a needed water break in the heat of an August practice session.

The high point of the '65-'66 basketball season was defeating an old rival, Diboll, three straight times without a loss. The Bulldogs did very well against teams with much more height and speed. After getting off to a slow start, the Bulldogs finished the season in exceptional style by winning the last games of the season.

BASKETBALL

The Bulldogs fielded one of the largest basketball teams during the 1966 season in the history of the school. Fifteen boys went out for a position on the team. Ably coached by Bob Hawes, this was one of the best conditioned basketball teams ever to represent Corrigan High School.

TRACK

The Bulldogs' 1966 track season began early in March as the 'Dogs entered the Livingston track meet, which was followed by four pre-district meets. The season was climaxed by the district meet held in Nacogdoches as the team captured third with 70 points.

Robert Ward hands off to Junior Scott (above); Hal Hubbard finishes the mile run (top right); and Alan Price sprints across the finish line (middle right) in the district track meet.

Hal Hubbard, after having placed first in the district mile run, was eligible to participate in the regional meet in Kilgore.

GIRLS' TRACK

In keeping with the New Era at Corrigan High School in 1966, a girls' track team was organized for the first time in a number of years, and entered state competition for the first time in the history of the school.

Trained by Coach Hopson, Mrs. Cobb, and Mrs. Hopson, the girls gained valuable experience in principles of teamwork and sportsmanship.

Gloria Hall, Stella Clark, Ernestine Clark, Theresa Kovar, and Sue Hubbard were eligible for participation in the state meet.

Robert apparently sees something very interesting that is not in the arena at the Astrodome!

1966 was a year to remember for the Senior Class of CHS. This was their last year of high school--an end and a beginning.

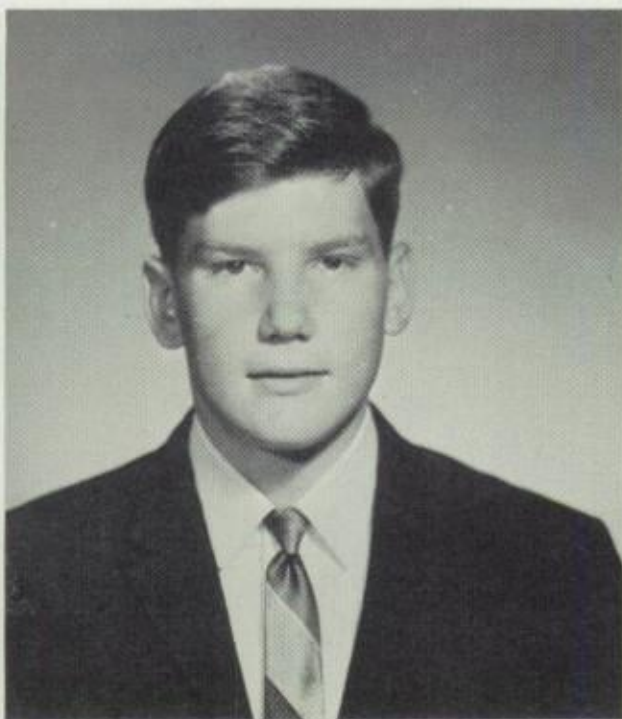

Tasks that lay before them were challenging. Improving their grades for exemption, choosing "the" college or career, deciding how their hard-earned money would be spent--these were a few problems which confronted the Class of '66.

However, they solved these problems well. Seniors assumed positions of leadership in school work and various organizations and worked hard to make their last year a profitable one. Instead of going on the traditional senior trip, they took day trips to the Astrodome and Six Flags and presented a gift to the school with funds they had earned throughout the year.

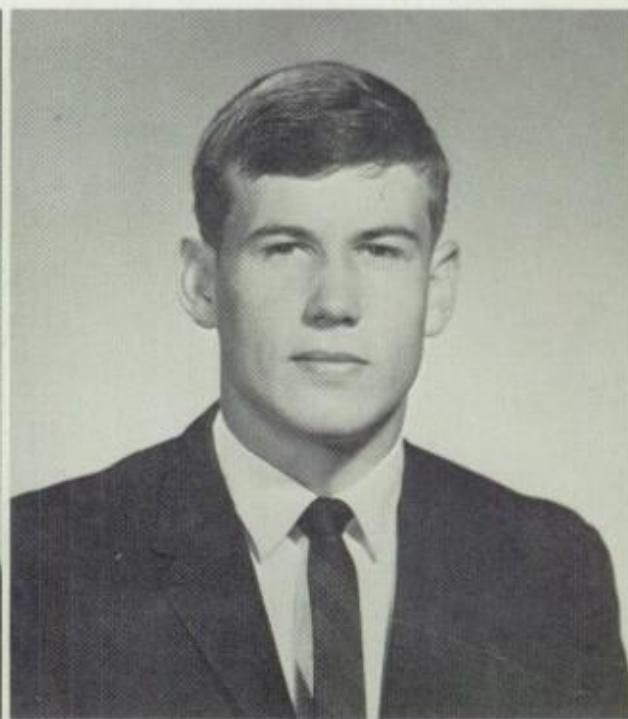

Cards received and invitations sent out, students realized that graduation was near. Yes, this was a good year, and they helped make it---a New Era at Corrigan High School.

NATIONAL JUNIOR HONOR SOCIETY

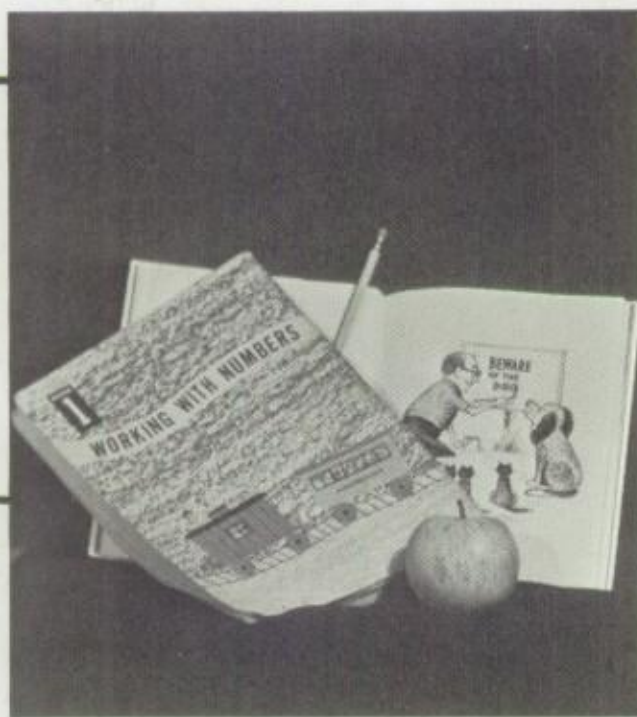

A busy and prosperous year marked the 1965-66 term of the National Junior Honor Society, which undertook such projects as dedicating the flagpole on the football field, trimming the hedges surrounding the school, donating a picture of George Washington to hang in the library, and conducting bake sales to raise funds.

JUNIOR HIGH CHEERLEADERS

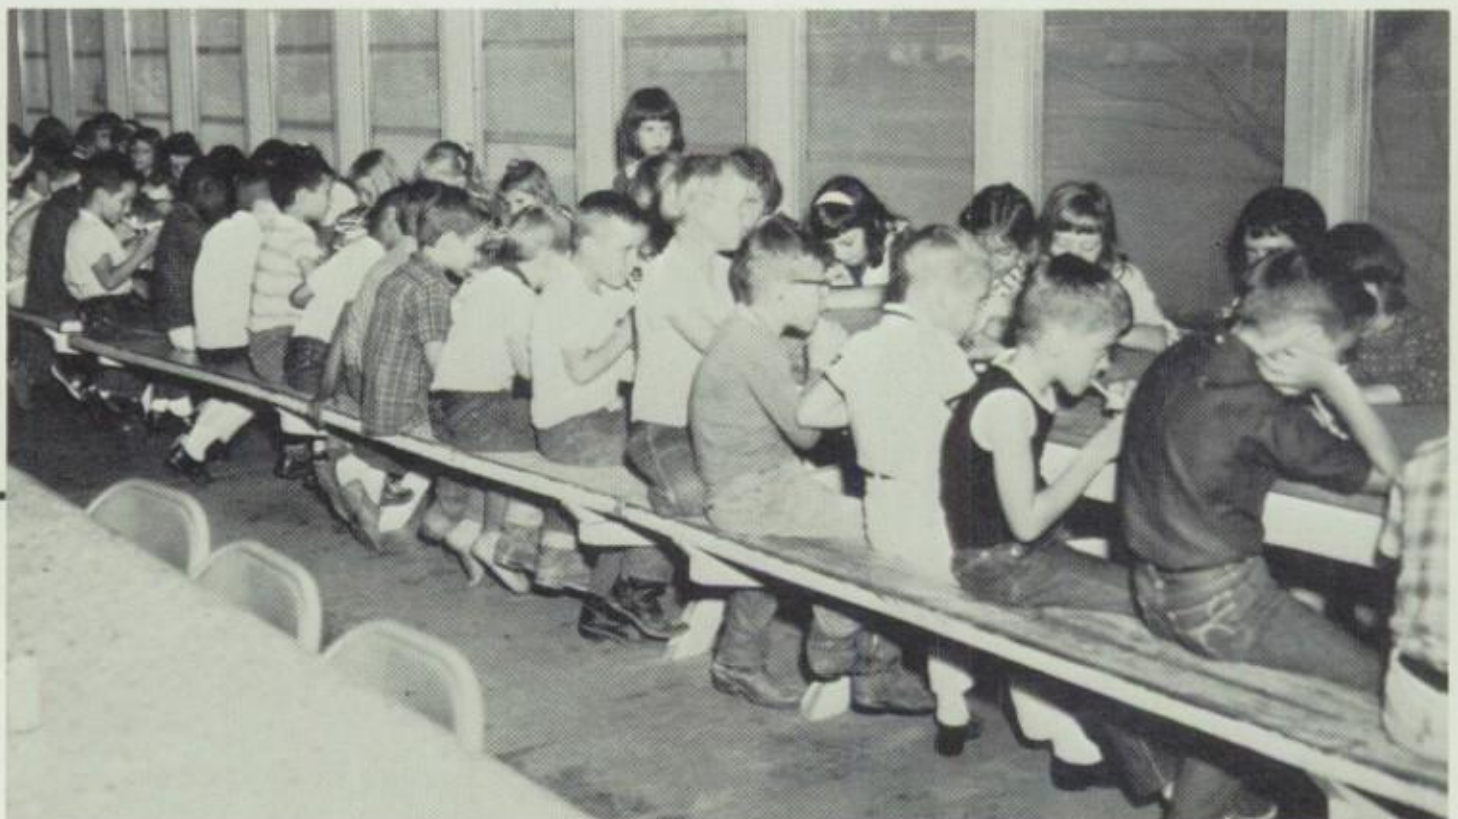

Practicing during the hot summer months prepared the Junior High Cheerleaders, Mary Bolton, Mary Hardin, Jamie Sims, Carolyn Cockrell, and Marion Langston, to keep up the Bulldog spirit throughout the year. Their vim and vigor urged the Bulldogs to victory, and boosted the spirits of every player and spectator.

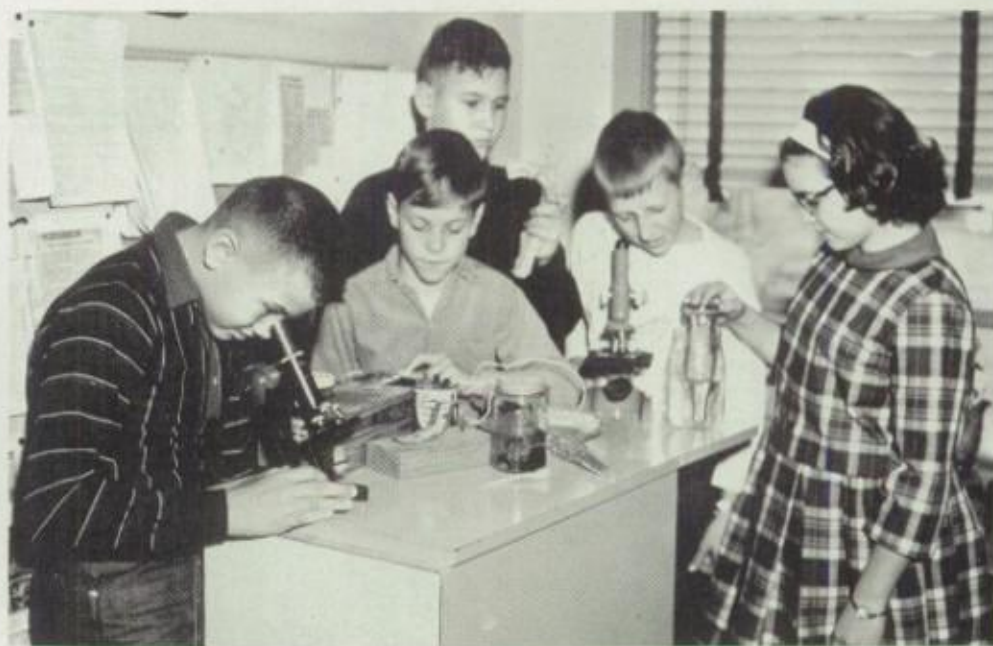

ELEMENTARY

Mrs. S. C. Watts, principal of the Corrigan Elementary School, has for twenty-seven years led in the admirable progress of our school system. She holds a Bachelor of Science Degree from Sam Houston State College and a Master of Education Degree from the University of Houston.

Her sincere interest in the student body and her excellent executive ability are evident to everyone.

This year departmental teaching was introduced at Corrigan Elementary School for the first time in the history of the school. Departmentalization enables a teacher to specialize in teaching one subject area. These departments are Science and Health, Physical Education, Mathematics, Remedial Reading, Language Arts, and Music.

FACULTY

Mrs. Winifred Manry demonstrates to the Fourth Grade the functions and composition of the human heart.

Mrs. Hawes concentrates on pronunciation as she helps the students in their reading.

A young student is encouraged in her studies by Mrs. Esther Williams, who teaches the Third Grade.

Mrs. Irene Safford keeps her class alert and interested as they discuss their reading lesson with her.

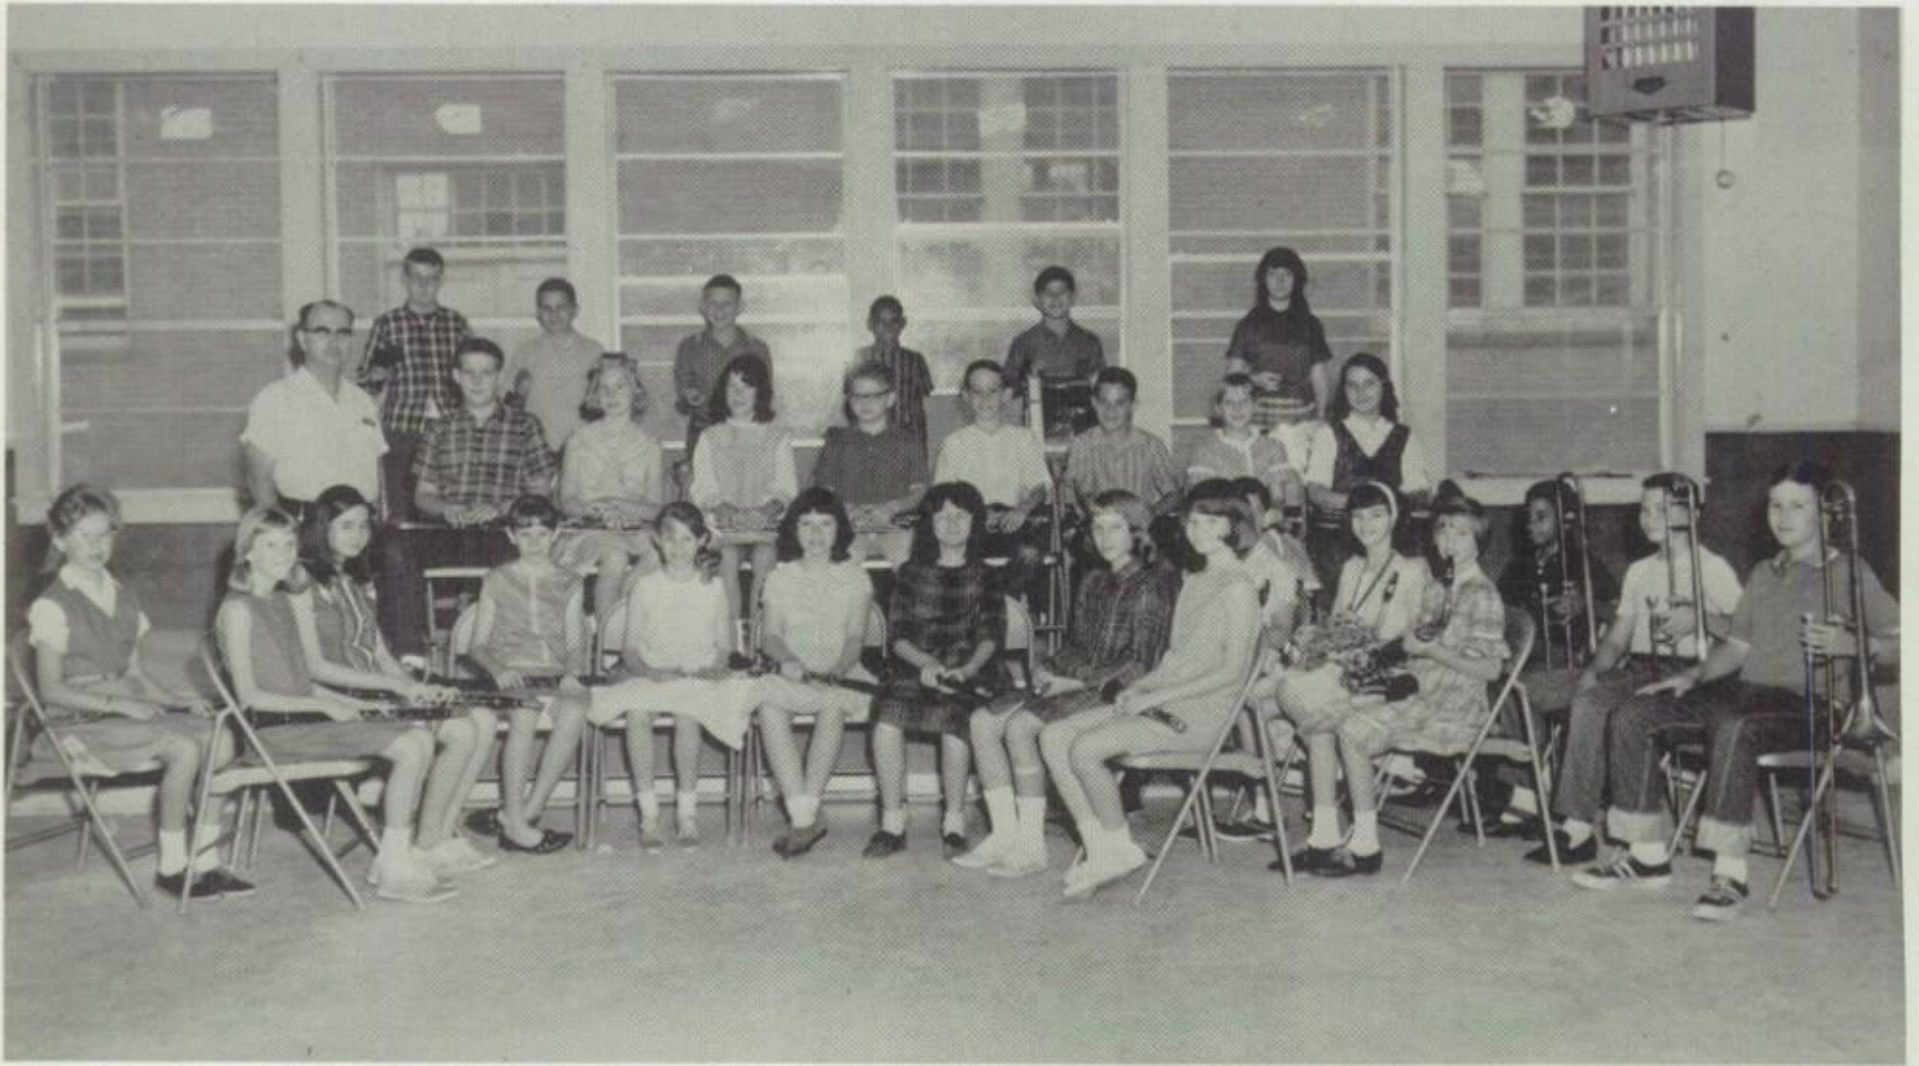

One! Two! Three! Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Seago teach the First Grade children how to count by using the abacus.

Mrs. Janice Youngblood concentrates on number sets in her Fifth Grade arithmetic class.

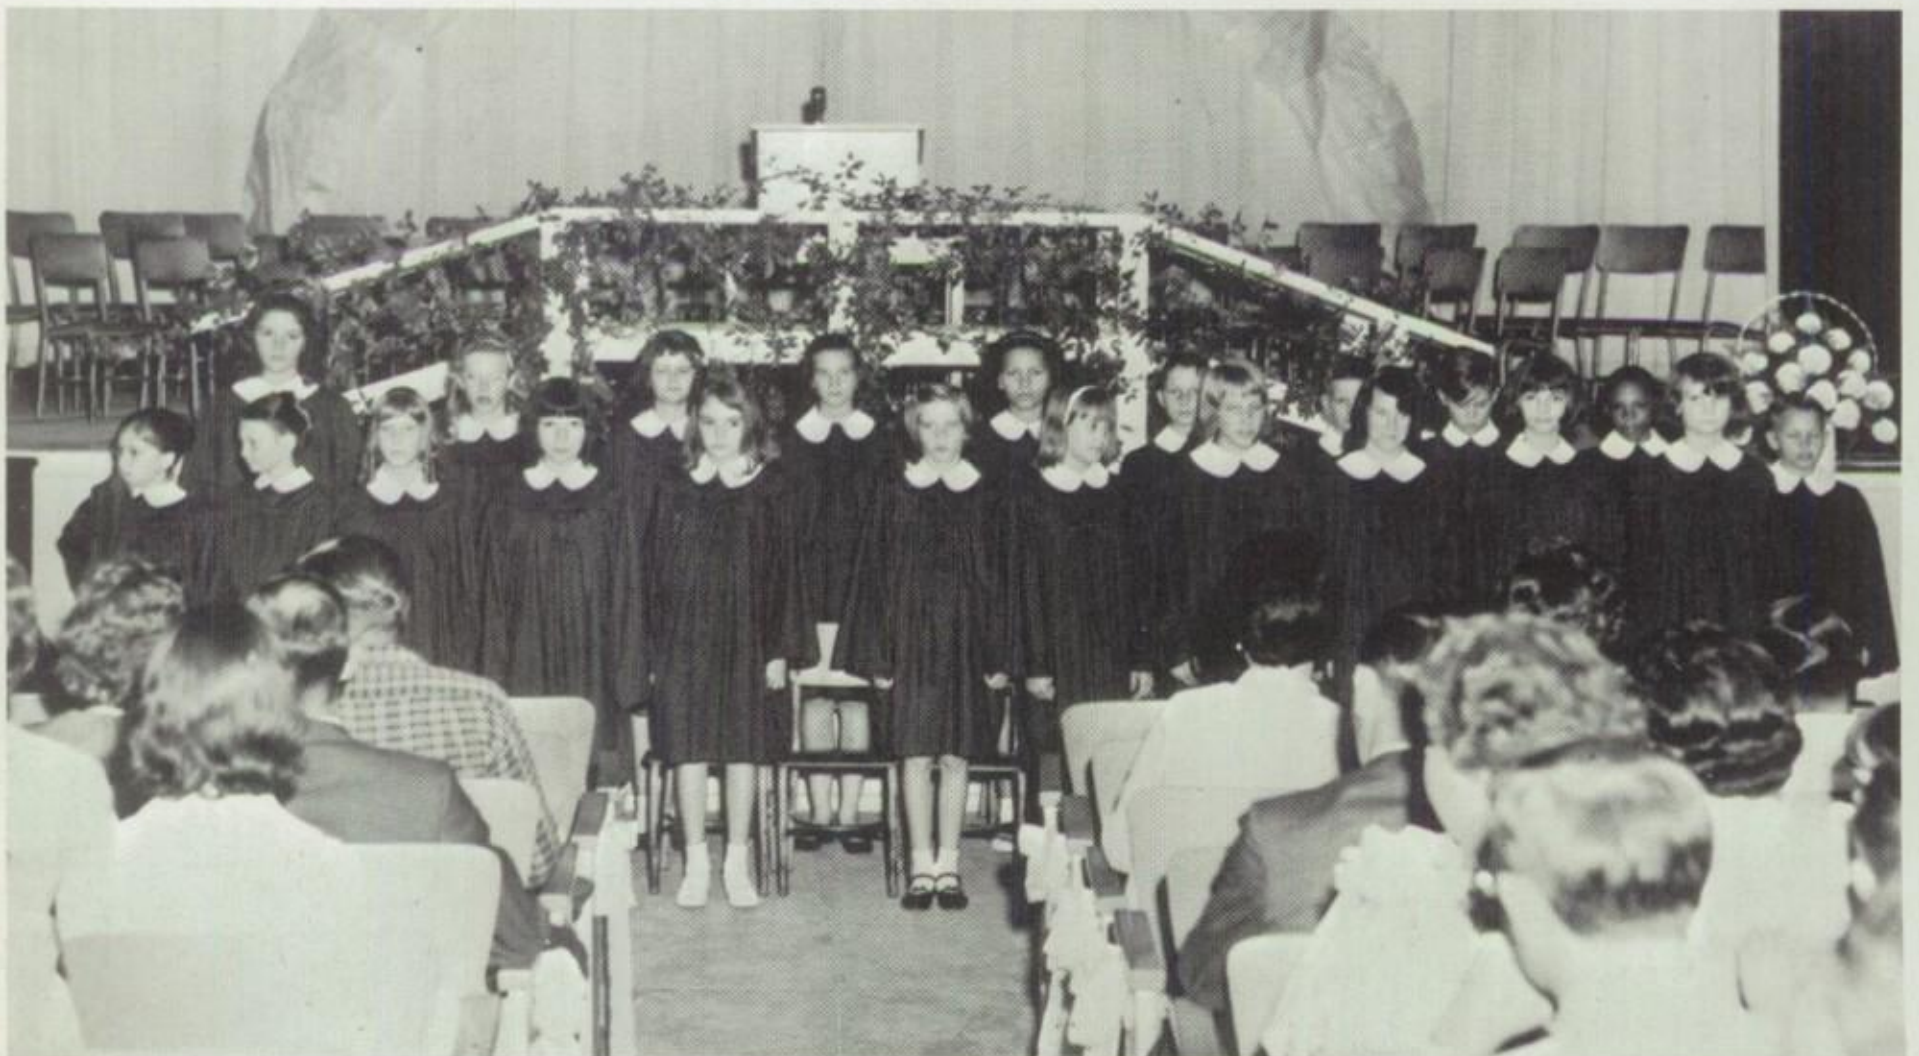

ELEMENTARY BAND

ELEMENTARY CHOIR

Members of the elementary school choir, under the direction of Byron Shelton, provided special music for various PTA programs and the elementary graduation exercises.

Crossing a bridge which symbolized a transition from six years of study and achievement in the Corrigan Elementary School to a world of new teachers, new friends and new experiences, thirty-three members of the sixth grade class were presented diplomas by Mr. J. R. Cockrell.

Before crossing this bridge leading to the future, members of the class had been well prepared for the many unfamiliar bridges which lie ahead by patient and understanding teachers whose goals were to provide our children with the best possible education.

very best friends.
I hope we can remain that way
for a long time.
You are a sweet
kid. Stay that way.
May you have the best of your choice.

We gratefully acknowledge our debt to many friends who aided us in the preparation of the '66 Blue Quill.

We especially wish to thank our advertisers who make it possible for us to create such a memorable book each year.

From the students of Corrigan High School come wishes for continued success as businessmen.

Advertising Editor, Dottie Stewart, and Business Manager, Grimes Fortune, take time off from the daily routine to join in the fun at the party given by the Journalism Class to promote annual sales.

Each class was judged percentage-wise according to the number of annuals bought by that class. The Juniors won the contest, but the Sophomores ran a close race for second place.

A JOB IS WAITING...

KEEPING America strong and free is a big job. A job requiring constant progress and more electrical power. Most of this will come from investor-owned electric companies, like Gulf States.

It's your job, too. Education holds the key to our success as individuals, as a nation. Learn all you can... our future is at stake.

Dear Mary Ann,
I think you are a wonderful person. I have enjoyed being your friend and I hope always to remain a friend.

I think you are a good twirler now and will be an even better one later.
I hope that luck shines on you, and you never have to go through what
I have because of twirling.
What ever happens, however,
never give up. Always keep fighting and you'll win in the end. Be the best margarette Corrigan has ever had.

Good luck in the future.
Richly Bless you.

Love always,
Judy Perkins
